Disposition: This horse is very mellow in the Britton Springs corrals. He is not aggressive and immediately got along with the other horses in his pen. He is very approachable and will take hay out of your hand.

Pre-existing Conditions of Concern:

This horse has had an extra roll of skin tissue between his ears since birth. (See photo)
This has been examined by a veterinarian and is considered benign. In addition, the outside of his right front hoof was overgrown by 4 inches when captured. He has been trimmed and examined by a veterinarian. At this time, BLM feels that this horse may have structural hoof problems. Any adopter must be prepared to accept the risks and increased costs associated with frequent hoof care and possible lameness. He may be serviceably sound for light recreational riding
